Explore Primary Sources

Access thousands of letters, photos, speeches, posters, political cartoons, maps, patents, videos, audio, graphs, legislation, telegrams, court documents, amendments, executive orders, census records, and more—covering a wide variety of historical topics, all saved for the American people at the National Archives.

Discover and Create Online Activities

Borrow from an ever-expanding collection of document-based activities built by the National Archives and teachers around the world. Use or modify ready-made activities.

Or craft your own using the online tools:

- Analyzing Documents
- Discussion Topic
- Spotlight
- Zoom/Crop

- Compare and Contrast
- White Out/Black Out
- Finding a Sequence
- Making Connections

- Mapping History
- Seeing the Big Picture
- Weighing the Evidence
- Interpreting Data

Engage Students

With hands-on access to primary sources and analysis techniques, students will form a connection to historical evidence and deepen their understanding of the past. Involve your whole class in an activity, or assign students to complete activities individually or in small groups on DocsTeach.org or the DocsTeach App for iPad. Activities align with Bloom's Taxonomy and National History Standards.
